Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Philadelphia Photographer: An Illustrated Monthly Journal, Devoted to Photography; January, 1871 Happy New Year. We wish our readers, one and all, a happy new year, and renew our promise to do all we can for their special good and prosperity. As announced in our last we have undertaken the labor of giving them a magazine full of information more frequently. That announcement, as we hoped, has met with the most cordial approval of many of our old subscribers, and the great majority of them accompany their renewals for the Photographer with a subscription, and words of good cheer for the World. We are gratified that our new enterprise meets such a reception, and we thank our patrons for this new evidence of trust in our promises to give them a good magazine twice a month. Those who have not subscribed for the World, will do well to secure the January number soon as out. Will all please kindly examine it carefully, and do what they can towards increasing its circulation. We offer liberal premiums for such effort, and the more subscribers we have the more good we can give, and the greater good we can do; so it will be seen that it is a mutual affair between us. Our whole time is now devoted to your interests, and may we not deserve a little of yours? Communications on all practical and useful subjects, notes on failures, c., always welcome. We now present you with this, our first number for the New Year, as an earnest of what we hope to do semi-monthly during the whole of the happy New Year. Third Annual Exhibition...
